APPENDICES (1) – (10) 40-67
The “Committee on Home-School Co-operation (CHSC)” was established in 1993. With members including professionals, parents and school representatives, it aims at promoting home-school co-operation in Hong Kong and providing opinions to the Government on matters concerning education policies and parent education.

Under the strenuous efforts of the CHSC in the past 20 years, there has been great progress in home-school co-operation in Hong Kong. At present, all government and government-funded primary and secondary schools have set up Parent-Teacher Associations. At the same time, Federations of Parent-Teacher Associations have also been founded in the 18 districts of Hong Kong. We are very pleased to find that many parents are squeezing time to participate in home-school activities organized by schools, Parent-Teacher Associations or Federations of Parent-Teacher Associations.

The “Parent-Teacher Association Handbook” published by the CHSC has always been very popular among the Parent-Teacher Associations. To cope with the changes of our society, this handbook has to be updated accordingly. We hope that the newly revised “Parent-Teacher Association Handbook” will continue to be an important reference document for facilitating the smooth operation and development of Parent-Teacher Associations.

“Unity of Home and School, Life with Love and Care” is adopted as the theme for this issue of “Parent-Teacher Association Handbook” to highlight the important role of parents and schools in moral education. While schools play an important role in education of students, it is only with the joining efforts of homes and schools that positive values and attitudes can be instilled effectively in students. Families are essential posts for kicking off moral education for students. Parents should work with the education sector in the implementation of moral education by serving as role models for their children. Parents can make use of everyday examples to instill in children positive attitudes and values and teach them to discern right from wrong. We strongly believe the collaborative efforts of home and school will help children who are brought up under love and care of homes and schools to develop and grow healthily. Endowed with a strong sense of responsibility, they will care and respect others when they grow up and become pillars of our society in the future.

Parent-Teacher Associations are bridges between schools and parents. They not only provide advice on the development of schools, but also actively engage in and organize a variety of home-school activities. Their contributions to both learning and teaching are indeed tremendous. I would like to express my heartfelt appreciation to parents, principals, teachers, and all those who have worked dedicatedly to promote home-school cooperation.

Committee on Home-School Co-operation

- To promote connections and communications between parents and school and to establish a partnership between them
- To promote the development in academic performance and the physical and mental health of children through close home-school co-operation

1.2 Preparation
Roles of the School

- The school should identify parents who are interested in school business and educational issues and invite them to become members of the “Preparatory Committee for the establishment of a Parent-Teacher Association” (Preparatory Committee).
- 2 to 3 parents from each class level are to be invited to the Preparatory Committee.
- At least 3 to 4 experienced teachers are to be appointed to actively assist in the preparation work.
- The school is responsible for convening the first meeting of the Preparatory Committee so that committee members can acquaint themselves with one another.
- The chairperson of the Preparatory Committee is to be elected in the first meeting of the Preparatory Committee so as to launch the preparation work formally.
The Work of the Preparatory Committee

- The school can take the lead in drafting a “Working Schedule” to facilitate members of the Preparatory Committee to reserve time for attending meetings.
- To make the drafting of the constitution easier, it is advisable for the school to draw reference from the constitutions of other schools.
- For details on the drafting of constitution, please refer to paragraph 1.5 below.

1.3 Executive Committee Members of the Parent-Teacher Association and a Summary of their Duties

- Parents with children still studying at the school may stand for election as executive committee members of the Parent-Teacher Association.

- The financial affordability of parents for activities organized should be taken into consideration.
- All activities should be organized upon discussion and the arrival of a consensus with the school.
- Please refer to Appendix (5) for a sample of the annual plan.

2.2 Suggested Activities

(b) Procedures for Meetings
- Preparation prior to meetings
  - The chairman and the secretary should work out the agenda and discussion items first. Please refer to Appendix (6) for a sample on the agenda.
  - Typically, the secretary should notify members of the date, time, venue and agenda of the meeting 14 days in advance. If the Parent-Teacher Association is registered as a limited company, a written notice of the meeting should be sent out 21 days before the annual general meeting is convened.

- The secretary should prepare minutes of the previous meeting and other relevant documents for the members’ perusal. Please refer to Appendix (7) for a sample on the minutes of the meeting.
- Committee members in charge of “liaison” and “recreation and welfare” should lobby and encourage members to attend the General Meeting.
- Members should try their best to understand the items for discussion and the relevant background information.

During the meeting
- The meeting should proceed according to the agenda. The chairman should lead the discussion and voting by the attendees.
- Voting should be conducted after the discussion session and in accordance with the stipulations in the constitution.
- In discussing the items, attendees should be open and concern themselves with facts rather than individuals. They should try their best to express their views and accept different opinions. They should also respect others when they speak. The chairman should control the discussion atmosphere to avoid the extremes of over-excitement and passivity.
- The chairman should control the time for each agenda item to ensure that the meeting finishes on time.

Follow-up after the meeting
- Minutes should be ready within 7 days after the meeting and sent to the chairman for perusal and approval.
- Copies of the approved minutes of meeting should be sent to all attendees of the meeting as soon as possible via various forms of transmission (such as email). A deadline (usually within 7 days after dissemination) should be set for collecting feedback. The amended version should serve as the draft minutes.
- Generally speaking, the draft minutes should be submitted for adoption and filing at the next meeting. However, the actual situations and decisions made by the chairman together with the executive committee must be taken into consideration.
- Members and executive committee members responsible for executing the resolutions should follow up on the issues concerned.

• Special note for Parent-Teacher Association registered as a company limited by guarantee
  - An annual general meeting (“AGM”) must be held in respect of each financial year of the company within 9 months after the end of the company’s accounting reference period by reference to which the financial year is to be determined;
  - The business to be transacted at the AGM must include, inter alia, appointment of auditor for a financial year and laying of financial statements, directors’ report and auditors’ report.
  - For a financial year which begins before 3 March 2014, an annual return and a certified copy of accounts (including every balance sheet laid at the annual general meeting, auditors’ report, and directors’ report) should be filed with the Companies Registry within 42 days after the date of the AGM for the year.
  - For a financial year begins on or after 3 March 2014, an annual return together with certified true copies of the relevant financial statements, directors’ report and auditor’s report are required to be delivered within 42 days after the company’s return date, i.e. 9 months after the end of the company’s accounting reference period.
  - Please refer to Appendix (2) for details of the filing requirements of an annual return.
Chapter Three : Insurance
Chapter Three Insurance

When planning activities, the Parent-Teacher Association should take account of insurance matters, including policy coverage, compensation, etc.

3.1 Procurement of School Insurance

- In the interests of teachers, students and the school, all schools should acquire adequate insurance to cover the public liabilities against accidental injury to students and any persons and/or accidental loss of or damage to any property arising from fire and accidents, as well as the employees’ compensation as required by the “Employees’ Compensation Ordinance”.
- All private schools (including kindergartens and schools under the Direct Subsidy Scheme (DSS)) should arrange insurance policies on their own.
- For matters concerning insurance, please make reference to Circular No. 16/2004 of the Education Bureau or browse the following website: https://www.edb.gov.hk/en/sch-admin/admin/about-sch/sch-safety.html

3.2 Block Insurance Policy

- The Education Bureau has taken out the Block Insurance Policy (BIP) for aided schools, caput schools and aided and caput schools before full conversion into schools under the DSS.
- The BIP covers Public Liability Insurance, Employees’ Compensation Insurance and Group Personal Accident Insurance.
- Public Liability Insurance and Employees’ Compensation Insurance are a kind of liability insurance. Group Personal Accident Insurance is an insurance policy which provides students who suffer from Accidental Death or Permanent Disablement whilst participating in any school activities with a nominal benefit out of grace. However, this arrangement should not be regarded as a comprehensive personal insurance for students.
- For details of the BIP, please browse the following website: https://www.edb.gov.hk/en/sch-admin/admin/about-sch/sch-safety.html
3.3 Protection for Activities of the Parent-Teacher Association

- The Parent-Teacher Association should arrange its own insurance for the activities organized on its own.
- If the Parent-Teacher Association jointly organizes activities related to schooling/educational business with the school and the school is covered under the BIP, generally speaking, the activities concerned will fall within the coverage of the BIP.
- When activities are jointly organized with a school, the Parent-Teacher Association is advised to clarify the terms and coverage with the insurance company through the school.
- For private schools not covered under the BIP, the Parent-Teacher Associations should consult the schools about insurance-related matters or arrange appropriate insurance policies on their own for activities organized.
- When the Parent-Teacher Association considers arranging a policy with an insurance company on its own, it should pay attention to the following matters:
  - consider the nature of the activities when arranging any insurance policy for the sake of better protection;
  - make sure that the coverage and terms of different policies, such as deductibles, exclusions, etc., are well understood before procuring an insurance policy;
  - specify matters such as the limit of indemnity, number of insured and period of insurance when filling out the policy details;
  - inform the insurance company immediately of any changes in the details during the period of insurance; and
  - consult the legal adviser of the Parent-Teacher Association or of the school, if necessary.
Chapter Four
Finance

Most Parent-Teacher Associations are financially independent. A prudent financial management system is essential to ensure the effective use of financial resources.

4.1 Sources of Income

- Membership fee – Collection of membership fee in accordance with the constitution
- Subsidies for activities – Home-School Co-operation Grants from the Education Bureau (For details, please refer to paragraph 4.2 below)
- Charges for activities – Charging appropriate fees for the activity in question
- Other subsidies – Subsidies from the school and sponsorship or donations from other organizations

4.2 Home-School Co-operation Grants

- The Education Bureau provides grants to subsidize home-school co-operation activities every year.
- The circular on “Home-School Co-operation Grants” is uploaded to the website of the Education Bureau around June or July every year and schools may download the application form for submitting applications of the school year concerned.
- Parent-Teacher Associations and schools must pay attention to the application deadline. Applications submitted after the deadline will not be entertained.
- In filling out the application forms, Parent-Teacher Associations and schools have to go through the circular carefully with particular reference to the targets of their proposed activities and the vetting criteria spelt out in the circular.
- The “Home-School Co-operation Grants” comprise subsidies as detailed below:

Hints for designing activities:

- Ideal activities are those in which teachers, parents and students can participate together for bringing benefits to the students in their study.
- In designing home-school activities, it is advisable to consult and seek the valuable opinions of the school and parents so as to achieve the best results.
- In designing joint school activities, it is advisable for the host school and its Parent-Teacher Association to seek consensus on the arrangements (including the income and expenses items) with the partner school and its Parent-Teacher Association. The partner school and its Parent-Teacher Association have to work closely with the host school and its Parent-Teacher Association throughout the activity.
• For a sample on the organization of home-school co-operation activity, please refer to Appendix (8).

• Upon the completion of home-school co-operation activities, schools are required to submit activity reports/evaluation forms to the Education Bureau and keep the records for inspection. Schools should, in compliance with the standing financial monitoring and auditing mechanism, reflect the subsidies obtained and expenses incurred under the “Home-School Co-operation Grants” in their own annual account for timely inspection and auditing purposes.

- Schools and Parent-Teacher Association can obtain information about the above-mentioned evaluation form from the following website: https://www.chsc.hk/chi/content_pta/application/201911/Evaluation-Form-PTA_e_2019-20.pdf

- A “Direct Subsidy Scheme School” or a specified school in Schedule 3 of the Education Ordinance may also choose to establish an IMC.

5.2 Recognized Parent-Teacher Association
- The IMC shall recognize one body of persons (however described) as a recognized Parent-Teacher Association for the purpose of electing and nominating parent managers.
- A parent-teacher association can only be recognized by the IMC as the recognized Parent-Teacher Association if the constitution of this association stipulates that only parents of current students or serving teachers may elect or become committee members of the association.
- The recognized Parent-Teacher Association may nominate such number of persons for registration as parent manager or alternate parent manager of the school as may be provided for in the constitution of the IMC of the school.

5.3 Parent Managers

• The alternate parent manager may vote on any matter to be resolved by the IMC only when no parent manager is present or the school has no parent manager for the time being.

• An alternate parent manager shall be registered as a school manager and attend meetings of the IMC. Except in specific circumstances, he/she shall not be counted when establishing a quorum of the meeting. For details, please refer to Section 40AS of the Education Ordinance.

Chapter Six: Networking
Chapter Six

The establishment of a sound liaison network assists the development of the Parent-Teacher Associations. A sound liaison network should be based on a commonly shared belief among the parents, the school, the teachers and related parties for achieving the healthy growth and development of the students.

6.1 Home-School Networking

- Designating a contact person for the network to strengthen the impact of the affairs of the Association and the relationship among the executive committee members;

- Holding regular activities among committee members such as monthly tea gatherings and interest classes to forge the sharing of experiences and strengthen the relationship among the committee members.

(b) Networking between the Executive Committee Members and the Members:

- Establishing liaison networks at each class level of the school for strengthening the connection between the committee members and the parents whom would be encouraged to express their needs, opinions and feelings directly to the committee members of the class level concerned;
- Increasing the channels of communication through publishing newsletters, installing message collection boxes within the school creating online message boards, etc.;
- Inviting the parents, if necessary, and with the prior consent of the school, to fill out questionnaires to collect their opinions;
• Establishing a Parent-Teacher Association Activity Centre in the school to create more opportunities for contacts between the committee members and the parent members; and
• Forming a voluntary parent service team so as to establish a harmonious cooperative relationship between the committee members and the parent members.

(c) Networking between Parent-Teacher Association and School:

6.2 District-Based Networking

• Effective and beneficial home-school co-operation activities can be promoted among home, school and the community through establishing a sound cooperative relationship with other Parent-Teacher Associations, the Federations of Parent-Teacher Associations and government departments within the district and making good use of community resources.

(b) The role and function of the Federations of Parent-Teacher Associations:
• The Federations of Parent-Teacher Associations are local organizations set up voluntarily by the Parent-Teacher Associations in each district. Each Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations draws up its own constitution.
• Although the constitution of each Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations may differ from one another, their objectives can be summarized as follows:
  - To facilitate district-based liaison and exchange of views among the Parent-Teacher Associations;
  - To assist the set-up of Parent-Teacher Associations in the same district;
  - To promote parent education to improve the quality of parents;
- To promote home-school co-operation to facilitate the development of Parent-Teacher Associations;
- To integrate the forces of parents to promote educational and community development;
- To promote exchanges and broaden horizons; and
- To offer opinions to relevant authorities on issues related to education and home-school co-operation.

- Members of the Federations of Parent-Teacher Associations include:
  - Parent-Teacher Associations in the same district and
  - Member schools include registered kindergartens, kindergartens cum child care centres, primary schools, secondary schools and special schools.

- Please refer to Appendix (10) for avenues of contact with the 18 Federations of Parent-Teacher Associations.

6.3 Proper Use of Community Resources

- If the Parent-Teacher Associations find their schools lack facilities or resource for preparing or organizing activities, they may discuss with the community service units or community centres in the same district for borrowing the facilities and resources concerned.

- There are government departments or community services organizations setting up different types of resources centres with respect to different themes or topics. Each centre keeps a suitable amount of information including books, periodicals, VCDs, CD ROMs, cassette tapes, slide shows, videotapes and display boards for the reference by the members of public.

- Some large department stores, commercial organizations or tertiary institutions donate their surplus materials every year. Parent-Teacher Associations may pay attention to their announcements for applications.
